Includes: Title V Transition Applications, Source Specific Operating Agreements (SSOAs), and Federally Enforceable State Operation Permits (FESOPs), and Operating Without a Permit FESOP/Enhanced New Source Reviews (ENSR), which are a combined application for a construction permit and an operating permit.

* In March 1998, one hundred thirty-nine (139) Title V Transition applications, which were initially assigned permit numbers, were removed from the count of pending applications, retroactive to March 1997. This was necessary, because they instead came under a recently established Permit-by-Rule, which does not require an application or OAM permitting decision.
